Movant, Robert N. Hunn, Esquire and the law firm of Kolsby, Gordon, Robin, Shore & Bezar (hereinafter collectively referred to as “KGRSB”) respectfully submit their Brief in support of Petition of Counsel for Leave to Withdraw.

I. CONCISE STATEMENT OF FACTS

a) Underlying litigation

This is a negligence action against two adoption agencies and a founder of one of the agencies for the wrongful adoption placement of the plaintiff, Masha Allen, with a pedophile. Masha was born on August 26, 1992 in Russia. Matthew Mancuso began an adoption process in the fall of 1997 through defendant Jeannene Smith who at the time was employed by defendant Families Thru International Adoption (“FTIA”). Ms. Smith was formally terminated from her position with FTIA in February of 1998 and quickly formed her own adoption agency called Reaching Out Thru International Adoption (“ROTIA”).

ROTIA and Smith completed Mancuso’s adoption process and paired Mancuso with Masha in the spring of 1998. Mancuso took legal custody of Masha in the summer of 1998.

Sadly, Mancuso was a pedophile. Mancuso abused Masha and photographed her for dissemination over the internet. In 2003, Mancuso was arrested and charged with various counts of abuse. He is currently in prison. Masha was subsequently adopted by Faith Allen.

b) KGRSB's Retained As Counsel

KGRSB is a law firm with offices in Haddonfield, New Jersey and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. In the Summer of 2008, KGRSB was contacted by attorney David S. Bills (a Georgia attorney) who represents Faith and Masha Allen with regards to representing Masha in litigation against the adoption agencies involved in her adoption to Mancuso. KGRSB accepted the representation.

This matter was the subject of a Congressional Sub-Committee Hearing on September 27, 2006. All of the defendants gave testimony on this matter before the Sub-Committee. Additionally, the Sub-Committee subpoenaed all relevant documents from the parties.

KGRSB filed the instant litigation on September 15, 2008 and continued to investigate the case. For example, KGRSB came into possession of New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services investigation of Masha's adoption.

Over the next few months, irreconcilable differences arose between KGRSB and Mr. Bills and Masha's mother, Faith Allen. In order to protect the interests of Masha, KGRSB cannot and will not disclose the irreconcilable differences in a public filing but request an opportunity to present these differences to the court in camera (and in the presence of Mr. Bills and Ms. Allen.). The irreconcilable differences have made it impossible for KGRSB to continue as counsel for the plaintiff. On January 30, 2009, KGRSB spoke with Mr. Bills and Ms. Allen to inform them that the irreconcilable differences have reach a point where KGRSB cannot represent the plaintiff. KGRSB recommended seeking new counsel to continue the litigation. The differences have not resolved but have worsened since the January 30, 2009 discussion. Ms.

Allen, through Mr. Bills, has informed KGRSB that she does not wish for KGRSB to discontinue their representation and opposes the instant Petition to Withdraw.

The instant litigation is in an extremely nascent stage. After the complaint was served, requests were made by defendants for time to determine whether insurance coverage, dating back a decade, would be available to them. It is KGRSB's understanding that the investigation of insurance coverage was completed in and about December 2008/January 2009.

At this juncture, there has been no discover exchanged and no depositions have been taken. Trial has not been scheduled and is not imminent. The completion of the discovery scheduling conference is currently scheduled for April 6, 2009. Plaintiff has produced a Rule 26 disclosure statement. Defendants have not yet produced their statements.

II. LEGAL DISCUSSION

Local Rule of Civil Procedure 102.1 provides the legal authority for a Motion to Withdraw as Counsel. It states, in relevant part, "unless other counsel is substituted for a party, no attorney may withdraw an appearance except by leave of Court. The decision as to whether to grant a Motion to Withdraw is within this Court's discretion. Rusinow v. Kamara, 920 F. Supp 69, (D.N.J. 1996)

The New Jersey Rules of Professional Conduct also comments on a lawyer's ability to withdraw from representing a client. Rule of Professional Conduct 1.16 states in pertinent part:

(b) Except as stated in paragraph (c), a lawyer may withdraw from representing a client if withdrawal can be accomplished without material adverse effect on the interest of the client, or if..... (emphasis added)

RPC 1.16

RPC 1.16 has been interpreted by some commentators as providing for withdrawal under two circumstances: (1) for any reason, so long as no material adverse effect on the client occurs and (2) for good cause, such as financial hardship even if withdrawal has a material adverse effect on the client. See, Haines v. Liggett, 814 F. Supp 414 (D.N.J 1993) citing N. Dorsen, Regulation of Lawyers: Problems of Law and Ethics 432 (1989).

KGRSB submits that withdraw at this juncture of the litigation will not, in any way, materially affect or even remotely prejudice the rights of the plaintiff. First, the litigation is in an extremely early stage. No discovery has been exchanged, no depositions have been taken and the scheduling conference has yet to be completed. Trial of the case is neither imminent nor has it even been scheduled. There have been no settlement discussions and KGRSB will certainly use its best efforts to quickly and efficiently transfer the file to a new attorney and will work with the attorney in learning the file.

Second, the case is not encumbered by a pending statute of limitations. The minor plaintiff is currently 15 and the statute of limitation on her claims will not expire until August 26, 2012. Consequently, there is ample time to pursue her claims with a new attorney.

Certainly, KGRSB in no way seeks to prejudice the plaintiff and her ability to pursue claims. KGRSB seeks to discuss the irreconcilable differences with the court, in the presence of Mr. Bills and Ms. Allen, to explain why KGRSB is no longer the appropriate firm to represent the plaintiff.

Lastly, KGRSB submits that the defendants will not be prejudiced by KGRSB's withdraw as plaintiff's counsel. A withdraw at this time will not delaying any pending discovery or a pending trial date. KGRSB has submitted to the defense a Rule 26 disclosure statement advising of the known witnesses and documentary evidence. Consequently, a withdraw by KGRSB at this time is in no way interfering with the defendants' ability to prepare a defense. The defendants took part in the September 2006 Congressional Sub-Committee hearing and have equal access to the testimony and documentation preserved by that hearing.

III. CONCLUSION

In sum, KGRSB respectfully requests that this Honorable Court enter the proposed order attached to this Motion permitting KGRSB to withdraw as counsel for the plaintiff and stay this matter for 60 days to permit plaintiff to obtain new counsel.
